 - Family needs placed above individual needs
 - Emphasis on collective rather than individual

Outcomes of Familismo

- Student resilience
- Positive learning outcomes
- Peer-group attachment and support minimizes barriers
- Approach allows institutions to meet student needs
 - Rather than expecting students to acculturate to mainstream culture
- Students feel accepted and validated
- Increased sense of belonging

Sense of Belonging

What Is It?

- Feeling of connectedness
- Sense that one is important/matters to others
- Perceived support from peers, teachers, family

What Does It Look Like?

- Notice
- Nurture
- Believe
- Care for
- Positive Feedback
- Validation
- Build relationships
- Positive interactions

Outcomes

- Confidence
- Reduced fear of failure
- Sense of self worth
- Improved transfer outcomes

(CL) PSY R101 - General Psychology

Welcome to PSY 101 - General Psychology

Hello! I am so excited to work with you this semester and assist you in achieving your educational goals. This is an 18-week course that meets in-person on Tuesdays from 11:00am - 12:15pm (in Letters & Science 16) and there is an online requirement of reviewing materials/completing assignments through our Canvas course.

I truly look forward to our class and getting to know each of you. If you have a preferred name that is not on the official roster, feel free to send it to me.

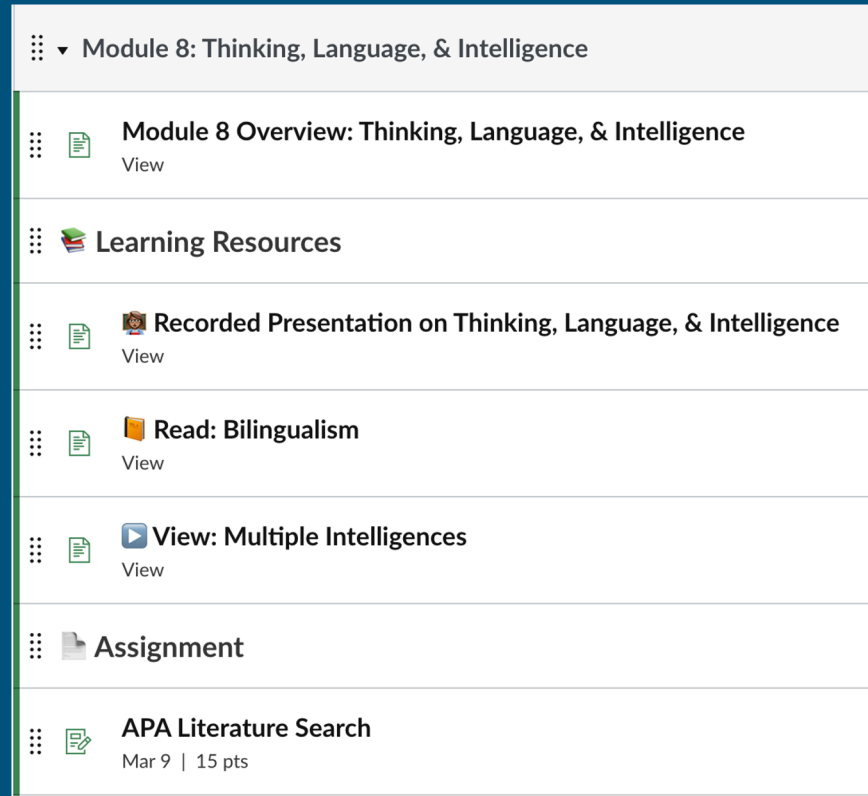

One of the many reasons I love teaching this particular course is the real-world applications that we can share. Please check out the pages in our modules to familiarize yourself with how we'll operate. We have a required textbook for our course, but it is available for FREE online (see the Welcome Module for how to access the textbook). The free textbook is made possible through OpenStax. If you have any questions or experiencing challenges, please contact me right away so that we can work together to meet your needs.
